There was discussion about whether GFPR could have volunteers sign a waiver for Workers' Compensation, and/or whether liability insurance would cover volunteers, rather than pay the state fund. It was agreed it could be checked into.

Diane moved, Matthias seconded to accept financial statement.

Tim suggested purchasing another external drive to copy the music from the studio computer onto, and back all computers up regularly in future.

Website/Facebook report: Thomas asked whether we want to prioritize getting the website great (adding value) or do the bare minimum-just so it is useful. Currently it is not visually stimulating. It was suggested time be spent on developing content. Facebook: content driven. The page will have engagement if we have compelling content. It was agreed to clean up the schedule on the website.

Podcasts were discussed. Currently GFPR/KGPR has one podcast channel. Channels costs $216.00 per year. The KGPR channel was set up May 31, 2018. Visitors to KGPR podcasts showed 10 people every 3 days. It was agreed to leave all podcasts on the one channel for now, posted on the website.

Matthias discussed program development and presented a form which could be used for each II program distinguishing live and recorded programs, DJ, time, talk or music, timeline, program description, sponsorships, comments. All current and potential and/or proposed programs would be documented on such a form. Diane moved, Janice seconded we accept the form Matthias designed as our official program form. Motion passed.

A short discussion of interviews it was noted by Tim Hodges that Zoom without video has more bandwidth than telephone audio. Thomas stated all interviews should/could be leveraged on Facebook.

It was agreed to ask Lonnie Hill to craft a PSA seeking 2 board members for GFPR board of directors.

A streaming report has not been sent recently. Matt Donnelly sent a copy of the last streaming report, it does not appear to have been uploaded. KGPR got in under MTPR's streaming agreement. Ray Ekness will have Michael Marsolek send an email explaining streaming reports. We have a "pass" for first quarter.

A Wednesday afternoon revival of current talk shows is planned. Matt will host, introduce, and start with Ken Robison and Front Range Outdoors. Thomas volunteered to commit to doing Voices and Views interviews every other week for 6 months. His offer was accepted. Local talk shows will air every Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. Voices and Views will alternate with Front Range and a possible show from GFCMSU. Matthias noted we want to be consistent, listeners want a solid stable consistent program.

It was agreed a work session on production and training was needed. A work session of 1-2 hours was scheduled on Zoom for Monday, Feb. 22, 2021.

The meeting adjourned without a motion at 8:15 p.m.
